UNION LEADERS IGNORE ORDER OF COURT

OHIO MINERS OUT UNDER STRIKE CALL

No Disorders Shown
As Men Remain in Their Homes Today

tinue to Produce

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 1.—Unofficial information received here early today indicate that practically all of Ohio's 40,000 soft coal miners answered the strike call, which was effective last midnight. At state headquarters here of the United Mine Workers, John Moore, president of the Ohio miners, said it probably would be late in the day before definite figures would be available as to the number of men on strike. No statement from the operators was available, but reports indicated that in most of the districts the mine owners made no attempt to operate.

No disorder was reported from any of the coal districts in connection with the walkout of miners. Reports indicated that in most instances the miners remained at their homes.

No troops, either state or federal, have been ordered out in Ohio in connection with the coal strike. Reports late last night from several of Ohio's coal fields indicated that every union miner would be idle today. From Athens came the report that nearly 8,000 would fail to report for work today. The same report stated that a number of miners expressed themselves as willing to continue work if ordered to do so by the government. These men, however, were said to be in the minority.

An early morning report from Wellston state that the 2,000 miners of that district had laid down their tools. There are 7,000 union miners in the Steubenville district and it was reported last night that these men would walk out to the man. From Bridgeport and East Liverpool came reports that the 4,000 miners employed in the two districts would obey the order. Several small mines in the Zanesville district, which are not unionized, it was reported, would continue to mine coal. Union miners of the district, however, were reported on strike.

Woman Sleeps For Three Weeks

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Dora Mintz, 29, has been asleep for three weeks, and all attempts to rouse her have failed. Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner, announced today. She first became ill October 1, complaining of a sore throat. Later Mrs. Mintz developed a severe headache and, October 7, she went to bed and has been in a semicomatose condition ever since. She was taken to a hospital October 16, and has been given nourishment in liquid form. Physicians report that the young woman becomes slightly delirious at times. "The sleeping sickness" is believed to be the aftermath of an attack of influenza.

You Can't Fool All The People All The Time

G. O. P. HOLDING OUT TO HELP GALE BECOME POSTMASTER, IS LATEST DOPE

—ARE YOU GOING TO HELP THEM?

Has "Cap" Gale been promised the Postmastership of Lima if a republican president is elected next year, in return for agreeing to step down and out of the safety directorship of the city, in the event Harley is elected? That is the question that will arise now that Captain Peter McGowan, prominent negro leader of the city, and long a valued member of the republican organization, has "spilled the beans" for the gang.

In the store of Nelson and Herbst a number of citizens were assembled discussing the Mayoralty fight. Among the gentlemen present were Captain McGowan; Frank H. Downing, generally accredited with being either the republican boss of the city or close to the throne, he passes upon all things; Don C. Henderson, attorney; Colonel William Bell; Frank A. Hume; Nels Nelson, Charles Herbst and Judge William Klingler.

Frank A. Hume is reported to have asked this question of Mr. Downing:

"Why is it that the republican voters of Lima hesitate for patriotic reasons to support Frank Burkhardt? I am a democrat and two years ago when an appeal was made that we Democrats support the republican candidate I, as one, did so. And I know of many others. We thought it our patriotic duty, although we knew that our candidate was as good as Bailiss Simpson."

"Now I wish, Mr. Downing, you would advise me why some republicans hesitate, or why fair play does not predominate. Why is the republican organization so insistent that every republican stand by Harley regardless of consequences?"

Downing is said to have made no answer and Captain McGowan, the negro leader of the city, then stepped forward and said: "I am an organization man, and stand for Downing, Gale and McKeany, right or wrong. I am the only colored man that is a member of the republican organization.

"Mr. Hume would you believe me if I were to tell you the real truth?" Mr. Hume answered that he would. Then Captain McGowan is said to have spoken right out in meeting, about as follows:

"If the organization remains in power and a republican is elected president of the United States, Captain Gale will receive the endorsement for postmaster."

Strike Recall Rumors Denied

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—It was learned here that the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, while in session yesterday, heard reports that messages, purporting to come from John L. Lewis, acting president of the miners and calling off the strike, had been received on union circles in Colorado and Utah. It was learned that no such messages had been sent and their source was declared to be a mystery to union officials.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 1.—The strike of Utah soft coal miners scheduled for midnight was declared off in a telegram received here by John M. McLennan, Utah state representative of the United Mine Workers of America, from John L. Lewis, president of the federation.

MINERS' LEADERS DISREGARD THE ORDERS OF UNITED STATES COURT; 400,000 MEN GO OUT ON STRIKE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Upwards of 394,000 bituminous mine workers throughout the nation of a total of 615,000 men employed in that industry today were on strike in response to the general strike call, effective at midnight last night, according to reports, in some instances estimated, received by union leaders. Despite the federal injunction issued at Indianapolis against the strike, the leaders who generally stated they would disregard it, asserted that the strike today would be extended to more than 500,000 miners.

Exact strength of the walkout probably will not be known until Monday, however, since in many of the country's mines Saturday has been recognized as at least a half holiday and work suspended altogether in others on Sundays. Mine operators early today had announced no plans for carrying on mining, despite the precautionary steps taken and promised by the federal and different state governments. Neither had they given out an estimate of the number of men on strike.

From headquarters here of the central department of the United States army which embraces most of the nation's great bituminous coal fields no reports of additional movements of federal troops into the mining zones had been announced. Federal troops from Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky., today were on duty in the West Virginia coal fields and others were held in readiness in Georgia to be sent to the East Tennessee mining district. In Colorado and Oklahoma state troops had been ordered into the coal fields.

Throughout the country the putting into effect of the walkout was orderly. No reports of violence or destruction of property were received and in many instances a sufficient quota of union men was left at the various properties to prevent accidents or the damages that would result from stopping the machinery. Minus reports from some of the states on the number of miners affected by the strike order, principally Alabama and Virginia, following is a table by states of the number of men reported out today by the union leaders.

Arkansas 4,000; Colorado 5,000; Illinois 80,000; Indiana 25,000; Iowa 14,000; Kansas 12,000; Kentucky 10,000; Maryland 10,000; Michigan 2,400; Missouri 2,000; Montana 4,000; New Mexico 4,000; Ohio 40,000; Oklahoma 7,000; Pennsylvania 100,000; Tennessee 2,000; Texas 2,500; Utah 1,000; Washington 8,000; West Virginia 40,000; Wyoming 8,000.

SMALL HOPE OF RESCUING ANY IN MINE TOMB

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
AMSTERDAM, O., Nov. 1.—With the recovery of seven bodies from the burning number two mines of the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal Company last night, officials of the company today held out small hope of the remaining 13 miners being alive after having been imprisoned 72 hours. Of the seven bodies discovered last night, one was identified as that of James Gray. The other six were said to be foreign-born miners. Following attempts to disperse the crowd of relatives and friends who have thronged the entrance to the mine ever since the disaster occurred, mine officials hoped early today to remove the bodies from the mine. On account of the women and children at the mouth of the mine last night no efforts to move the bodies were made. From the condition of the bodies it was stated that all had been suffocated by smoke or gas as they had not been touched by the flames. Company officials expressed the belief that the remaining men had wandered farther into the mine. For the first time since the fire broke out fire fighters got the flames under control late last night. The company announced that a statement would be issued tonight or tomorrow.

Japanese geisha girls in Honolulu have been granted an increase of 50 cents an hour, making their pay $1.50 an hour.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Miners must make the next move in the soft coal strike, was the opinion today of government officials.

The strike was a reality today even though directing heads of the United Mine Workers of America were restrained from activity by federal court injunction. Government officials awaited reports as to the extent of the walkout, for upon this information rested the future course of the government.

Should reports that any considerable number of miners desire to continue work, the government was prepared to furnish them protection.

Should disorders occur, the government was ready with all the police powers at its disposal to put them down. But the government's activities were not alone in the coal fields. Maximum prices for bituminous coal, formulated to meet war's necessity, were again in effect. Priority of distribution, based in part on the war schedule was in operation.

All steps to protect miners who refused to heed the call of union heads, to preserve peace in the bituminous fields and to lessen in so far as possible the suffering of the public and the disruption of industry, incident to such a strike had been taken. Nothing more can be done by the government, officials intimated, until a way was shown by the strikers themselves. For that reason officials were not prepared to discuss the government's course other than has been outlined.

QUIET AT UNION HEADQUARTERS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 1.—From the scene of most activity in connection with the strike of approximately 400,000 bituminous coal miners, headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America here has been transformed in the last 24 hours to perhaps the most lethargic.

The lack of activity, however, was not due to disinterest in the strike but was the result of the sweeping provisions of the restraining order issued yesterday by United States District Judge A. B. Anderson compelling the miners' officials to refrain from taking any part in conducting or encouraging the strike.

of the miners, which, according to dispatches, has been carried out almost to a man among the union soft coal workers of the country. Miners' leaders at headquarters thus far, apparently have obeyed the restraining order to the letter. They not only decline to give out statements and reports concerning the strike but will not discuss their plans for combating the action of the government in the courts, and unless the restraining order is violated by some of those against whom it is directed, miners' headquarters will remain out, at least until the government's injunction proceedings again come up in the federal court November 8.

PITTSBURGH AND SOUTH IDLE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 1.—Approximately 42,000 miners in the Pittsburgh district went on strike today in response to the order of the United Mine Workers of America, according to officers of district number five of the organization. The number represent practically 100 per cent of the coal production of Western Pennsylvania.

Most of the men walked out at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the end of the day shift it was announced at district headquarters. About five per cent of the 42,000 miners work night shifts, and this number went into the mines yesterday and worked until last midnight when they too joined the strike, union officials said.

OUT IN WEST VA.
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 1.—Reports received at the headquarters of district number 17, United Mine Workers of America today indicated that approximately 42,500 miners had answered the strike call in West Virginia. With one or two exceptions where organized miners are working under recent contracts, and with the exception of the men left at the mines to protect the property, union officials asserted that the response to the call was 100 per cent.

State military headquarters was established here today by Colonel W. H. Harrell, commanding the 800 regulars of the first division who moved into West Virginia last night from Camp Taylor, Ky., to be used in event of an emergency.

KENTUCKY MEN QUIT

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Nov. 1.—Affected the first time in ten years by a strike of large magnitude, western Kentucky today was within the grasp of a nation-wide strike of soft coal miners which went into effect last midnight. Approximately 10,000 miners of the state had joined the walkout early today, according to union officers who predicted that several thousand additional men

School Head is Missing; Foul Play Feared

CONNEAUT, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Frank P. McIntyre, principal of Dean Avenue School mysteriously disappeared from here early last night and is being sought by local police and Sheriff Eldred and deputies from Jefferson. When McIntyre failed to return home after going on an errand a search was started that resulted in finding his hat and overshoes. Whether he was assaulted by footpads and spirited away or kidnapped by students as a halloween prank is unknown.

DOG BITES BOY

Stanley McGuire, 12 newsboy, while riding his bicycle yesterday afternoon at the corner of Main and High streets was bitten by a dog. The boy's cries attracted pedestrians who took him into the office of Dr. Steer, to have the injury dressed. The teeth of the dog had sunk into the fleshy part of the boy's limb, but it is not believed the wound will be serious. McGuire lives at 1007 North Cole street.

OHIO WEATHER

Rain and colder tonight; Sunday colder and generally fair.

THERE WAS A HOT TIME IN THE OLD TOWN LAST NIGHT

"Fun" Was the Password At Lima's Hallowe'en Celebration.

VERY LARGE CROWD

Unique Costumes Featured The Event On The Public Square.

Despite the unfavorable weather fallowen hundreds of young people in gala attire wended their way downtown last night, and mingled with the crowds that had gathered on Main street shortly after dusk and remained until nearly midnight. Although there was no special celebration, such as a parade or Mardi Gras, planned for the evening, the streets were lined with young and old in every manner of costume conceivable, from fairies and Red Cross nurses to blackface comedians and devils.

A platform had been erected on the west side of the Public Square, and the Liberty band furnished music for several hours during the evening. Despite the extremely uneven pavement, particularly on that side of the square, several hundred couples managed to trip the light fantastic, even though they couldn't keep very good step, as the crowd continually surged in and around them.

Much Merriment
This was the first public celebration for two years, with the exception of Armistice day, and the young people especially took advantage of the opportunity to have a good time. Tin horns, confetti and other necessary Hallowe'en joy making devices added to the merriment of the entertainers.

There were a number of very original costumes in evidence on the streets, and one that attracted particular attention was a young lady with a dress made entirely of playing cards, and hat to match. Even though she was jostled in the crowd, she managed to keep all of her kings, queens and aces attached to her.

Dame Fortune Appears
In addition, there were the usual number of clowns, yama yama girls, blackface comedians, Spanish and gypsy dancers, Red Cross nurses, soldiers, sailors, devils, and nearly every other kind of masquerade imaginable. Couples would frequently be seen where the young lady wore her escort's attire, and the male member of the party dressed in feminine apparel. The men's feet usually gave them away and although a number of men managed to get into high heeled boots, how their feet must have hurt after the celebration was over. It was no unusual sight to see a young man (?) escorting her lady friend (?) into a confectionary store for a treat.

Besides the celebration on the square which was under the supervision of the entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce, a number of social events, dances and parties were held throughout the city. Long after midnight many persons who had been sleeping peacefully were awakened by

CUPID ENJOYS A REST THIS MONTH

Fifty-nine marriage licenses have been issued from the Allen county probate court during the month of October. This falls somewhat below the number issued during the preceding month.

More licenses were issued on Saturdays than any other day of the week, that being the banner day for the marriage license business. Monday stands second, probably due to the fact that they get together and talk it over Sunday, while the applicants on Friday are indeed a rarity, showing that the honeymoon is usually associated with Friday is looked upon more seriously than is generally supposed.

MAKE RECREATION ROOM FOR GIRLS

Extensive improvements are being made on the South Lima branch of the DuSoy-Wiemer cigar factory, for the convenience and comfort of the women and girl employees of the factory. The first floor is being practically remodelled, and a dance floor, rest and recreation rooms are being installed. In addition there will be a private dining room where the young women may eat their noonday lunches. It is understood.

The rooms will undoubtedly prove very popular with the young women, and the managers of the factory are planning to have an opening some time during the coming week. Mark Kotler, of the South Side branch has charge of the improvements, which will cost several thousand dollars.

BE CAREFUL WHEN YOU CAST BALLOT AT POLLS TUESDAY

Clerk Morris Says, It Will Take About 10 Minutes.

MANY ISSUES ARE UP

Also, All City Offices Are To Be Decided Upon At This Election.

Tuesday is the day when every citizen of 21 years of age or upwards is expected to exercise his sovereign right as one of the electors of the nation to express his desires on a multiplicity of questions. The ballot somewhat resembles a Chinese puzzle, and unless great care is taken the chances are about equal for the voter to vote for something he intended to and something he didn't want at all. (The length of the ballot to be voted in Lima and the difficulty in deciphering it warrant giving the subject considerable study before going to the polls, and even then says A. J. Morris, clerk of the Board of Elections, it will take an average of about ten minutes to cast an intelligent vote.

Probably the most important county issue is the two mill levy for the improvement of the roads of the county. This is something which affects directly almost every one in the county.

The question of spending $30,000 of the county's money for the construction of bridges in Lima is also to be voted on. This is for the construction of two bridges over the Ottawa river, one at Bellefontaine avenue and one at East High street, each at a cost of $15,000.

Voters will also vote on the acceptance or rejection of the expenditure of $20,000 for the construction of an additional nursery at the Allen County Children's Home.

There are five city bond issues to be voted on which will be numbered as follows: (1), $112,000 for the construction of bridges over the Ottawa river at North street and at Elm street; (2), $5,500 for the improvement of the city's sidewalks; (3), $88,000 for the city of Lima's share of the expense of paving Main street from the Pennsylvania railroad to the Ottawa river; (4), $182,000 for the construction of a retaining wall for the Ottawa river in Lima; (5), $12,000, Lima's proportion of the cost of improvement of the North Shore Drive from Pierce street to a point about 4,700 feet west along the Ottawa river.

Without doubt the most difficult ballot to understand is the one on which the prohibition question is listed. There are two prohibition ballots and the voter is required to vote on two issues on each one. On one of the two ballots is submitted the resolution adopted January 7, 1919, ratifying the National prohibition amendment to the constitution, and the Cripple act passed by the General Assembly of Ohio and known as House Bill No. 24. On the other is submitted the proposition that an amendment to be known as Section 9-1, Article XV, stating that no beverage containing 24 per cent or less of alcohol by weight is an intoxicating liquor, be adopted, and a second to be known as Article XV, to repeal state-wide prohibition and the manufacture for sale of intoxicating liquors be adopted.

The easiest way to remember how to vote on this question is the one given by William Jennings Bryan in his address at Memorial Hall, Monday evening. "To vote dry" he says, "vote yes on the long ballot, yes being the longer word, and no on the short ballot. That is the way to keep Ohio dry" he said. Of course, if you are a wet you will vote the other way.

There is another ballot for the selection of one judge of the criminal court and two justices of the peace.

Ten candidates are listed on the ballot for members of the board of education. This has been a terrific fight this fall, bringing out more women than have ever registered before in the city of Lima. There are to be three of the candidates elected.

In addition to the above are of course the Democratic, Republican and Socialist tickets with their candidates for the various city offices, from mayor down.

DIVORCE GRANTED; ANOTHER SOUGHT

Jewell O. Woodruff was granted a divorce Saturday in common pleas court from Julia A. Woodruff on grounds of gross neglect of duty and was given control of their three children.

Woodruff claimed in his petition, filed September 9, that the defendant kept company with other men and conducted herself in an un ladylike manner.

Joseph F. Gullette filed suit in common pleas court Saturday asking divorce from Coretta A. Gullette. The couple were married in Lima April 8, 1919 according to the Gullette's statement, and only lived together six days when the defendant left him on April 24. During the six days they lived together, he states she was disloyal, spending a great part of her time in association with other men, attending dances, etc.

ARE WAGING FIGHT FOR NEW VIADUCT

The county commissioners have taken action on the alleged dangerous crossing of the Lake Erie and Western Railroad at Metcalf street by filing a petition in common pleas court asking for an injunction to prevent the railroad company from using its South Lima yards until a viaduct is constructed. In addition to a petition from the use of the yards the petition asks that the railroad company be fined $5,000 damages for failure to carry out their contract to construct an overhead crossing shortly after the tracks were laid.

The commissioners claim in their petition when permission was given by the city council in 1916 to construct the eight tracks, a part of the contract was that the railroad company should commence the construction of an overhead crossing within three months. This, the plaintiffs claim, has been disregarded, even when requested by the commissioners to do so.

The injunction will not interfere with traffic on the main tracks of the company but would merely restrain the company from using the tracks leading into the South Lima yards.

WINTER PROVES TO BE INCENTIVE FOR HURRYING OF WORK

To Avoid Chill Winds Builders Are Rushing The Work.

BOOM BUILDING YEAR

Moose Hope To Lay Corner Stone Middle of This Month.

Though the summer season is practically over, and there is the hint of winter in the air, building work is by no means concluded in Lima, and the coming of snappier weather only adds to the determination of those who are pushing contracts to get the work completed before real winter weather is here.

Building permits for this year so far, have doubled and even tripled any previous year, and already amount to more than a million dollars. It is probable that the million mark will be nearly reached by the first of the year. Probably the largest contract issued so far, is that for $400,000 for the handsome skyscraper hotel that is to be erected at the corner of High and Elizabeth streets.

Building permits for the month of October totaled $73,510. The largest of any this month was issued to Theodore Michael for the erection of a brick building on West Springs street, at an approximate cost of $17,000.

Work Is Progressing
Work on two large clubhouses that of the Knights of Columbus on West North street and of the Moose club, at West and North streets, is progressing rapidly despite the inclement weather. It is hoped to have work on the Moose club progress so that the cornerstone laying may take place the middle of November.

Opposite the Moose Club, work on the Christ Episcopal church is steadily progressing, although it will be several months before it will be ready for occupancy. It was at first planned to reopen the church the first of November, but it will probably be the first of the year, before regular services can be held in the new church, improvements on which will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

One of the most important residential deals of the week involving west end residential property was the purchase by H. O. Bentley of the T. P. Riddle home at Lakewood avenue and Jameson, for a consideration of $20,000. The residence is one of the most handsome in the city, and Mr. Bentley plans to take possession within a short time. The deal was made through the Boose agency.

Felix Mainer, 730 west High street has sold his property to Henry Smith for a consideration said to be about $9,000. Mr. Mainer purchased the home about two years ago. It is a handsome yellow brick bungalow.

Ralph Hydaker has purchased the home of W. H. Miller, west Elm street for a consideration of $8,000.

Another real estate deal involving downtown business property was the purchase this week by Roy Fletcher, local contractor of the western section of the Hale property, corner of High and West streets, as a proposed site for a four story European hotel. The property which is a part of a large lot measures 40 by 80 feet and fronts on High street. Fletcher purchased it from O. D. Fisher, real estate agent. The consideration was $16,000.

Two other sections of the property, each 40 foot frontages are owned by C. A. Orr and A. J. Dunn respectively. Fletcher stated that definite plans have not been completed, but he expects to start work early in the spring. If a hotel is not erected on the site, a brick business block will be put up in its stead, the lower floor to be for renting purposes, and the three upper stories to be used as apartments.

Dr. Paul Stuber has started work on the construction of the handsome new residence at the corner of Lakewood and Cole streets, to cost in the neighborhood of $12,000.

Carl Bowdie, has also started work on the building of a new home at the corner of State and Washington streets, which will cost approximately $12,000.

Paul Crawford, manager of Crawford shoe store is making plans for the erection of a new home on Lincoln avenue, to cost $10,000.

The above three homes are being erected by Roy Fletcher, Lima contractor.

NEWSIES TO HOLD BEAN BANQUET

The second monthly Bean Supper given by Lima newspapers to their news boys will occur next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at

Y. M. C. A. Ninety-eight boys were present last month and fully 125 are expected next Monday. The discussion club which is being held every Tuesday evening is growing in interest showing it is just what the boys want.

Public interest in the boys is growing and Mrs. E. B. Mitchell who founded the news boys' association and is back of the present club expects to form a board of directors who will see the organization is put on a permanent basis.

PRICE OF PORK ON DECLINE IN LIMA

A break in the prices of pork has been noticed in the local markets the latter part of this week. The reduction, according to dealers followed a general reduction in the wholesale price and is from 2 1/2 cents per pound to 5 cents per pound on fancy cuts. Dealers state that another reduction may be expected within a few days.

FORMER PASTOR HERE.

Dr. Clarence Mitchell, of Fairmont, West Va., for several years a resident of this city and pastor of the South Side Church of Christ, is spending the day as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of State street. Dr. Mitchell who has re-entered the evangelistic field is conducting a revival meeting at Auglaize Chapel, near Cridersville. His dates for the near future are in Ohio and Indiana. Rev. Mitchell is the chaplain of the Elk's lodge at Fairmont and is calling some of the Lima lodge brothers. The Auglaize Chapel church will hold a home coming service next Sunday which a number of Lima church people will attend. Mrs. Rev. Franklin of the South Side Church of Christ this city is assisting Rev. Mitchell at the Auglaize Chapel revival.

SCHOOLS HERE HAVE PLENTY OF COAL

The coal situation in Lima at the present time is fairly good, although coal dealers received notice this week that no coal could be shipped to them by mine operators until some settlement in the strike had been reached. Parents need not fear, however, that their children will be cold this winter, because every school in the city is looked after, and every coal bin is filled to capacity. Some of the schools have enough coal to last them until spring, while the remainder of the schools have coal enough to last them throughout the season. The coal was purchased the middle of the summer. In anticipation of such a situation that is now being faced, according to Superintendent J. C. Collins.

NEW STORE STAGES WONDERFUL SALE

Bargain Hunters Throng Sidewalk In Front of Establishment.

With the re-opening of the Metropolitan 5 to 50 cent store on Main street near the Public Square, Saturday, came one of the greatest sales of the city's history. Manager Watkins made arrangements for special police in advance to handle the crowds which blocked the sidewalks. The store was closed all day, Friday, for re-arranging and installing a new stock which Watkins claims was bought at prices never before equaled in this section of the country; enabling the store to offer merchandise at prices which were a revelation to Lima buyers.

The phenomenal success of the sale here is no exception to the rule. The manager of the local store has on display photographs showing similar crowds at their stores in Akron, Salt Lake City, and other cities where their stores are located. The store carries the regular line of merchandise carried by 10 cent stores and in addition an amount of merchandise which is a great bargain to the buying public from 10 cents up to 50 cents. This embraces almost everything imaginable from a needle to the latest in fall millinery. An examination of the stock shows the secret for the wonderful successes these stores are having all over the country.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 1.—The Commercial Bulletin today says, been sufficient to keep the market firm. The call for three-eighths combing wools persist with values steady. The manufacturers situation is very healthy so far as the demands for goods is concerned the industrial out-look being a bad feature.

"Foreign markets keep firm with a tendency upward except on very low dross breds."

New Suspect is Held in Bomb Plotting Case

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 1.—Police today were holding a new suspect, arrested last night, in the bomb plot uncovered here. Records show he was arrested several times during the war in connection with anti-draft agitation. Two men are being held on suspicion in Canton on information sent from here. Two raids were made there but no explosives found, police said.

THE MARRIED MAN AND THE AVERAGE MAN

I thought it was mostly in comic not after marriage, there would be papers that an angry husband Janis on his hat and goes out to the club. If any one had told me that after a month of marriage this very thing would happen to us, I would have laughed the suggestion to scorn.

After Jim went out last night I sat before the fire in my little sweet home and tried to think out the situation sensibly.

I wonder if every woman is a little disappointed with marriage? I wonder if every husband jumps to words, exclusions regarding his wife's pre-marital love affairs.

And if so, what is a woman to do? Shall she take the high-handed course—remain proudly reticent and allow the thing to cause a rift between them? Or humble her dignity and beg for understanding of something so simple and obvious?

I say "simple and obvious" because I do not believe any woman save perhaps the conventional virgin or the daughter of fanatically religious parents, goes to her marriage innocent of all romantic experience.

Like every normal girl, I have had transient loves. I have been in and out of love half a dozen times. And I consider that fact makes me all the more worthy and faithful a wife.

A girl who marries without normal experience of men, does so largely out of a haze and quite natural curiosity. Was he to such a woman whose longing for adventure and excitement comes after her marriage?

The wife who truly appreciates home and husband is, like myself, the girl who has had a little fun out of her girlhood—her "flirt" affair.

If the girl, too, adventure, the glamour of living comes before and fewer wretched marriages. This I know.

I was thinking over all these things, and more, when Jim came back from the club. It must have been nearly midnight.

He came in softly, not at first seeing me in the half-dark room. As he started to go upstairs, I called out to him.

"Why?" He paused in surprise. "You still up?"

"Yes, Jimmie," I smiled. "Come sit here with me by the fire. It's lovely."

Jim looked greatly surprised—at most embarrassed, I should say. He took off his hat and overcoat in a sort of awkward silence. Then came and knelt beside me, on the hearth rug, taking my hands.

"You aren't—aren't mad at me, kiddie?" he said in his dearest tones.

"Why, of course not, Jim."

"I was disagreeable at dinner. Well—if you were, perhaps it was natural under the circumstances, you couldn't be expected to understand." I said this as if I really meant it.

There was a pause.

"It's wonderful," said Jim at last. "He come back and find you sweet and friendly, dear?" I said nothing. Jim drew a long breath and swept a glowing glance about the room.

"You know," said he after a moment. "I believe the woman who makes a real home for a man, does the greatest thing a woman is capable of doing."

He kissed me.

I felt wondrously happy. I'd somewhere deep in my heart, vague but indistinct, was the feeling that I was, in a way, Jim's mother—not merely his wife—though Jim is (Twenty-eight and I am only twenty-three.)

I wonder if other women have the odd feeling of maternalism toward their husbands? (To be continued)

Redfern Corsets Are Perfect In Design and Made of Beautiful Materials

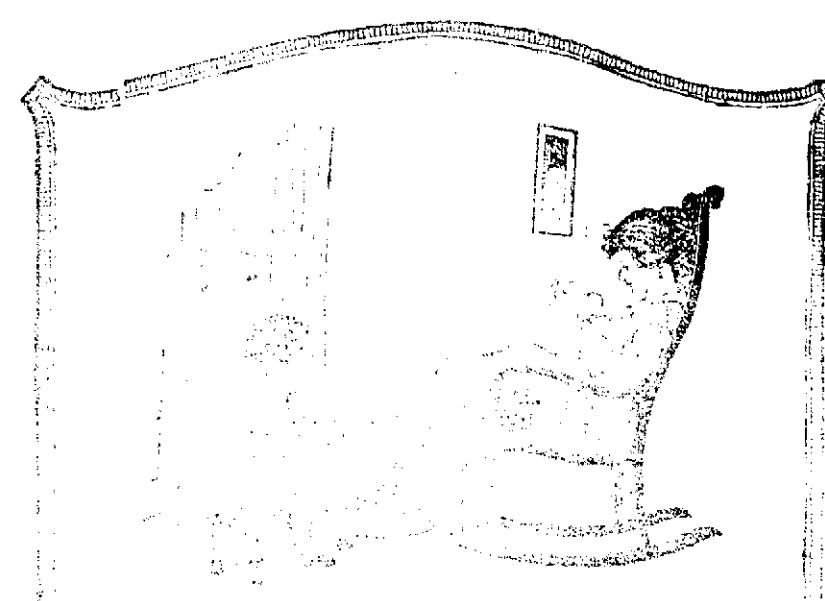

In materials well, one wonders whence come such fabrics in these days of scarcity. But it is in design that Redferns particularly excel, for the straight hip lines are copied from Youth itself, and the flat back, and perfection of the shoulder line are a combination rarely found all in one corset. In addition to this, the Fall models have the diaphragm control which is so essential to the Vogue.

The Adventures of a Married Flirt

by M.K.B.

Paul came home early that afternoon. The hairdresser was with me at the time, but he sent word that he wanted to see me as soon as I was discharged. I was curious, but decided to wait until I was dressed for dinner—we were dining with the Franklin Lamars out of deference to business interests, and I was on my mettle to look my best, knowing that a woman is cleverer when she is sure of her perfect grooming.

Paul was dressed and pacing up and down impatiently when I finally entered our little drawing room.

"You're certainly in no hurry to meet a husband," he remarked as he raised his fingers to his lips in an effort to stifle a yawn, which I generally avoid.

"I'm engaged to be married," I answered, with a forced smile, and he looked at me with a mixture of surprise and interest.

SOCIETY ENJOYS BREESE'S PAPER

George L. Breese, of Shawnee township read an interesting paper on "Early Allen County Indians" at a meeting of the Allen County Historical Society held Friday night at Memorial Hall. There was a fairly good attendance, despite the inclement weather. Mr. Breese who has made a thorough study of his subject, traced the wanderings of the Shawnee tribes over the western and northern sections of the country, until they finally settled in that part of Allen county known as Shawnee township.

Many relics of these same Indians have been found, and are preserved by the historical society in their rooms. The Breese family was one of the pioneer families in that section of the county, and Mr. Breese's paper was founded upon narratives of his ancestors and information gained from early settlers. At the November meeting of the club, Mrs. Frank Bell will read a paper on "Women's Clubs."

IT WAS APPARENT

The other morning an old negro boarded a Capitol car in Oklahoma City, Judge Pitchford of the supreme court, who was sitting in the colored section of the car, got up and gave the old darkey his seat. "Who is yo?" inquired the surprised negro. "I'm just a plain common kind of a man," replied the judge. "Yaasah, I kin see that," said the old uncle. "but I means what's yo' name?"—Ada (Okla.) News.

LETTER TELLS OF COUPLE WHO WERE DROWNED IN TEXAS

Vividly Pictures Death of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Caddy.

WELL KNOWN IN LIMA

Bodies Were Washed Away in Corpus Christi Flood.

In a letter written to Mrs. Anna Lewis, of Columbus Grove, niece of the late James E. Caddy, who with his wife was drowned in the flood which nearly devastated the entire city of Corpus Christi, Texas, Dr. John S. Bogges vividly describes a heart rending scene of the couple's unhappy fate. He tells how men, unable to lend assistance watched the pair from the shore; how they were swept from a frail life raft, and were nevermore seen.

Recently Dr. Bogges found a safe-box owned by Mr. Caddy, and endeavored to locate some relatives, learning that the pair at one time resided in Lima, the physician communicated with Miss Mabel McKenzie, who discovered that Mrs. Lewis is the late Mr. Caddy's niece.

The communication was forwarded to her, and she, in return, communicated with Dr. Bogges.

The late Mr. and Mrs. Caddy were formerly residents of this city, and Mr. Caddy for a number of years conducted a shoe store in this city.

The communication which Mrs. Lewis received from Dr. Bogges follows:

Corpus Christi, Texas, October 2, 1919.

Mrs. Anna Lewis, Columbus Grove, "My dear Mrs. Lewis:

"I am just in receipt of your letter of the 29th ultimo inquiring about the Caddy's and although I am very busy I am glad to give you whatever information I possibly can about them and their sad fate. As you possibly will recall the storm, which had been moving about in the Gulf for several days, struck this place Sunday morning, the 14th, and continued all day and into the early morning of the next day, and was over by daylight Monday.

The high water, however continued and was not away from the hospital till Tuesday morning.

"The Caddy's lived immediately adjacent to the hospital and were very good friends of Captain Brown, the Executive Officer, and his wife and Clerk Shary and his wife, both families of which were compelled to see them drown while they were helpless to assist them. Our garage was carried away about two o'clock, Sunday afternoon, leaving the heavy trucks and other machines in place, and a short time later the Caddy's house was carried away. They floated on some of the wreckage of their house and landed on one of the large trucks standing where our garage had been. As soon as they were discovered their rescue was considered but on account of the swift current, high seas and the large amount of heavy drift wood it was impossible to get to them. Several men volunteered to make the effort but on account of it being sure death for them and could not possibly result in any chance of saving the unfortunate couple they were not permitted to make the brave but hopeless attempt.

"Ropes were cut from the elevator and an effort was made to float them to the couple by wood floats but it was impossible to reach them. They remained on the truck till about five o'clock in the afternoon when a large wave swept them off which was the last seen of them. I have made diligent inquiry at the Identification Office but can find no trace of their bodies. Many bodies were not recovered at all, many were recovered but not identified, and only a comparatively few recovered were identified.

"After the water receded we sent out a party and recovered some of their table silver, a ladies watch and two bracelets, and some papers, all of which were turned over to the Salvage Committee, to whom you should write about them. The force of the waves was so great that it is with difficulty that the location of house can be determined, since debris like brick was carried considerable distances.

"It is a sad duty to tell you of all this, but you have the consolation of some definite information about the loved ones, while many others have no knowledge of any kind about those who were lost.

"The heading of your letter carries me back many years, for I used to go through Columbus Grove very frequently on my way to and from Columbus, when I was a student at the Ohio State University.

"With kindest regards and profound sympathy for all of you in your great sorrow,

"I am,

"Very truly yours,

"UNO. S. BOGGES

ADVERTISING IS AID TO ANY CITY

Advertising is a modern art that works toward the efficiency of business concerns in a city as well as to prove itself a boon to the dwellers of outlying districts who have no other way of knowing what the city merchant has to sell. Newspaper advertising tends to bring the ruralites and the city business man closer together and by increasing sales to turn his stock over in a much shorter time, thereby enabling him to sell at a much narrower margin of profit. Working in this way, advertising is an added economy rather than an expense.

Wednesday, Suburban Day, has been named by the merchants of Lima as the day on which they will cater especially to the rural trade and advertising campaigns will be conducted to keep the public advised of special bargains to be had on that day. It is hoped that this policy will open up new fields for the merchants of Lima by getting the people here and demonstrating that Lima is the mecca for those looking for a wide variety of merchandise at the lowest prices.

Word has been received here by Lima friends of the death in Montpelier, Ind., of James O'Donnell, a former oldtime Lima resident who passed away at his home in that city Thursday. Funeral services and burial were held today at Montpelier. Mr. O'Donnell will be remembered by many of the older residents, as he lived here during the oil boom in and around Lima. He left here a number of years ago for the western oil fields.

ALL WAS QUIET

Everything was quiet in police circles Friday night, according to the statement of Chief Roush Saturday morning. The streets were crowded considering the weather, and a big percentage of the crowd was masked, but none of the depredations frequently perpetrated by Halloween celebrators was reported he said.

OIL PRODUCTION GAINS THREE PER CENT. OVER 1917

A gain of three per cent. over the record production of petroleum in 1917 is indicated in the preliminary estimate for 1918. An estimate of nearly 350,000,000 barrels, as against the record for 1917 of over 335,000,000 barrels, is made. The reserve of crude oil held by all producers and pipe-line companies in the United States at the end of 1917 is estimated at 123,000,000 barrels, as compared with 150,000,000 barrels at the end of 1917.

Is "Crap Shooting" To Be Listed Among Lost Arts?

What has become of the old-fashioned, black boy who always carried a deck of dice in his pocket? Is the question that Lima police are asking themselves. It has been many long months since any of the lovers of this indoor sport have been presented in police court, and the question remains, has the gentle art of throwing the "galloping dominoes" become lost through the activities of the present generation? It's a pretty safe bet that a lot of games are not going up in and around Lima, for wherever there is a little game of "african golf" being played there is sure to be loud callings and louder prayers. There never was a real lover of the dark pastime who would shake, rattle and roll, and at the same time keep from pleading with the cubes. In fact, we can not call to mind ever witnessing a deaf and dumb man participating in this game.

Dice Games Is Essential

It may be that the northern "culla'd man" has lost the art, but that is not saying his blacker brother south of the line surveyed by Messrs. Mason and Dixon has. Dice is a southern negro art just as essential as the oarjio and sugarcane. Without them, a darkie's life would not be worth living. There are many times during the day when pastimes of various and diverse kinds will please him, but there is nothing that will give the excitement or suffice for the game of "Alabama pool."

Give a black boy one dime and a deck of dice, along with a few bent companions who have the same capital, and you have satisfied him. He will be content, for this will enable him to utter ejaculations which would never come to light otherwise, and which might be lost. The dice game is responsible for a large number of the expressions used on the stage of today by black-face comedians. Take away the games, and you will certainly make a crimp in the market of expressions. Breaking It Easy Sometime ago while visiting down in Louisville, Kentucky, the writer walked along the levy of the Ohio river, and by chance came upon a dice game. Stopping to enjoy the colloquialisms which mark "a southern 'crap game'" It did not take long to discover there was a "yaller coon" from down the river. In the game who seemed to be "burying the baby lots of shoes." Finally, one of the boys picked up the dice as they were thrown by the lad from down the river. Looking them over thoroughly, the Louisville darkie turned to another one and asked: "Slew, what day ov de month is dis?"

Slew, after some hesitation, answered "Dis an the twelf ob June, why?"

"Well," said the other slowly, "Ah des wants you to remember dis date, for when de twelf ob June roll around agin dis here yeller nigger will have bin daid des one year."

Then the fireworks started. By the time the police arrived, the "yeller nigger" was near "daid" and the remainder of the gang has dispersed until the storm blew over when they would emerge from their hiding, and persuade the "Ivories" again.

Heard on Stage

This joke was sent by the writer to a well known publication, and some weeks afterwards he had the pleasure of hearing it "pulled" on the stage. So that is the way the majority of black-face gags originate.

At the present time, however, one would have a hard time picking up any phrases around Lima, for again we must remark the game of "african golf" seems to be a lost art in this neck of the woods.

DEMAND FOR SOUTH AFRICAN GRASS

As the demand for kikuyu grass in South Africa is increasing the Union government has issued a pamphlet dealing with its characteristics and advantages as a cattle fodder.

The privately and nationally owned submarine cables of the world total 2,628 in number, with a length of 55,496 nautical miles.

A traveling commissary in the shape of a truck loaded with cans of hot tea and coffee and cold milk and luncheon delicacies makes the rounds of a big Wisconsin factory every day at noon and saves the workmen the trouble of leaving their places to seek these refreshments, as they did formerly.

RASCALS

Biliousness, Headache, Colds, Constipation, Driven Out With "Cascarets."

Why take nasty cathartics, sickening salts, or stomach-turning oils to drive these rascals out? Let gentle, harmless Cascarets remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, your skin sallow, your breath offensive, and your stomach sour. Get a box of Cascarets at the drug store and rid your liver, stomach, and bowels of the excess bile, poisons, and waste which are keeping you miserable. Cascarets never gripe, never sicken, never inconvenience. They cost so little and work while you sleep.

REPUBLICANS, DON'T FORGET TURN ABOUT IS FAIR PLAY

Two Years Ago The Democrats Came To Your Rescue
And Saved The Day For You

BOYD DOUGLAS Democrat Candidate in 1917, Addresses this Public Letter

TO THE VOTERS OF LIMA:—

Fellow Citizens—Two years ago I was the Democratic candidate for Mayor of Lima. During that campaign the citizens became alarmed at the prospects of the socialist candidate for mayor and an appeal was made to the spirit of patriotism that we forget party and unite on the republican candidate regardless of party affiliation.

This was done by hundreds of good democrat voters and the result was the triumphant election of Simpson.

This year again the citizens of Lima are alarmed at the prospects of the Socialist standard bearer and again many good citizens appeal that we unite on one candidate and I join in this appeal.

In all fairness I think to obtain the best results, the vote of this patriotic citizenship should be cast for F. A. Burkhardt, the democratic candidate for Mayor.

TURN ABOUT IS FAIR PLAY and if any calamity should arise in Lima again in the future the only hope we could have of obtaining united non-partisan action would necessarily be based upon the fair, reciprocal sacrifice made by the republican voters this year. Then we could point with pride to the self-sacrificing patriotic conduct of the Democrats in 1917 and the same patriotic self-sacrificing conduct of the republicans in 1919—ALL FOR THE COMMON GOOD.

Yours for the public welfare,

J. BOYD DOUGLAS

successes, by Allen J. Holubar, who is her husband in private life. In "Paid in Advance" she is cast as Joan Gray, daughter of a fur trader in northern Canada. She is lured to Dawson City by the unscrupulous proprietor of a notorious dive, who promises her work as a nurse and assures her that her father will become wealthy as an expert fur buyer.

Other notable names are in the cast, among them being Priscilla Dean, herself a Universal star; William Stowell, who plays the leading man; Joseph Gerard, Lon Chaney, Frank Brownlee and Bill Burress.

THE FAUROT'S PICTURES

The cast supporting Bryant Washburn, the famous Paramount star, in his latest picture, "Love Insurance," which is the current attraction at the Faurot, is one of the most brilliant ever assembled. Among the character men are Theodore Roberts, who has had a notable career both on the stage and in pictures; Eddie Sutherland, who recently returned from service overseas with the Canadian forces; Edwin Stevens, famous for his roles in Gilbert and Sullivan comic operas and in the title part of "The Devil," Frank Elliott, and others.

Lois Wilson, the charming Alabama beauty, is Bryant Washburn's leading woman, and Frances Raymond plays an important supporting role.

"Love Insurance" abounds in unique and important character parts, and the leading actors and actresses who play them have ample opportunity to do their best work. The scenes are laid in a beautiful spot in Florida, and the plot deals with the efforts of a conscientious insurance agent to subordinate duty to love and hasten the marriage of the girl he loves to a rival. However, Cupid will not be foiled, and it all turns out happily in the end. Bryant Washburn is the likable young insurance agent, while beautiful Lois Wilson is the woman in the case.

Added features of the program include "Topics of the Day," and a new comedy, "Honeymooning," which is capably acted by Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven. Last Times tonight.

"The Firing Line"

Irene Castle, a popular figure in the entertainment field for several years, who recently became a motion picture star by virtue of a contract with the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, will appear in her first Paramount-Briggs special picture, "The Firing Line," is a picture of Robert W. Chambers' celebrated novel of the same name, at the Faurot next Sunday.

Mrs. Castle started her stage career in vaudeville and subsequently married Vernon Castle, who lost his life in 1918 while serving as a Captain in the British Flying Service. As a dancing team the Castles established a reputation unparalleled by any other professional dancers in recent years. Later they continued their success in musical comedy, their last appearance being in "Watch Your Step."

The locale of "The Firing Line" is New York and Palm Beach and the photoplay was filmed in those places.

Other attractions on Sunday's program at the Faurot will include the Pathe News and "Skinny, School and Scandal," a comedy by Briggs, the famous cartoonist.

"A Society Exile"

Who ever heard of an heiress writing a popular novel? Inquired an incredulous male person during the filming of Elsie Ferguson's new Artcraft photoplay, "A Society Exile," which is coming to the Faurot next week for three days.

"Lots of them have," a woman came right back. "There's Mrs. Leonard Thomas, who writes poetry under the name of 'Mabel Strange' and Carmen Sylva, the well known poetess and novelist, was not only heiress to millions, but the Queen of Rumania besides."

The question was occasioned by the fact that in "A Society Exile"

"A Society Exile"

Who ever heard of an heiress writing a popular novel? Inquired an incredulous male person during the filming of Elsie Ferguson's new Artcraft photoplay, "A Society Exile," which is coming to the Faurot next week for three days.

Mrs. Ferguson plays the part of Nora Sherwood, the daughter of a millionaire and the author of a "best seller." She is taken to England by "her aunt," where she is courted by a dissolute lord, Nora refuses him, and in revenge the thwarted Britisher has her hooted out of England on a trumped up charge. She flies to Italy and becomes a resident of Venice, where happiness finally comes to her. The picture is from the well known English play, "We Can't Be as Bad as All That," by Henry Arthur Jones, and was directed by George Fitzmaurice. In the supporting cast are William P. Carleton, Warburton Gamble, Julia Dean, and Henry Stephenson.

In addition to the appearance of Miss Ferguson in a new photoplay, an event that always attracts our most discriminating picturegoers the Faurot will offer what has been hailed as the funniest skit that ever came from Mack Sennett's studio. This is "Uncle Tom Without the Cabin," a burlesque upon the familiar play. Charles Conklin plays Simon Legree, pretty Phyllis Haver is Little Eva, and Eliza, the famous Sennett dog, "Teddy" is the chief bloodhound. Ford Sterling is the audience and Ben Turpin plays Uncle Tom. Marks and all the rest of the characters. Introduced by the burlesque are some very nifty living pictures in which the Sennett beauties are featured.

taken from a story of Thomas Burke, is at once the most pitiful, most tragic, and withal, the most sublime love story ever told. And in the telling, the master, Griffith, has wrought such rare and undreamed-of beauties that a new art, full, rich, boundless, is revealed.

Charles Hanson Towne, Editor of McClure's Magazine, Personally Wrote to Mr. Griffith, the Following After Seeing "BROKEN BLOSSOMS."

Dear Mr. Griffith:

"I have never cared for motion pictures. So many of them are cheap and tawdry, and the stories seem to have so little relation to life as it is.

"But the other day I went to see 'BROKEN BLOSSOMS' at the Geo. M. Cohan Theater and I stand converted. If stories can be told in this wonderful way upon the screen, then a new art has indeed arrived—an art as important as that of Poetry or Music.

"I could find no single flaw in the presentation. As for what you have done to make this picture the living thing that it is, I have no words to express my admiration.

"It is the greatest step forward that we have known. You have immortalized yourself. I feel that a new era has dawned."

This art, this new budding rose that critics—dramatic, literary and of the arts—have so proclaimed, is a welding of painting, photography, the dramatic stage and music.

Watch the Regent for the big and best pictures in town. Do you know that the picture "Back to God's Country" we showed last week hadn't been shown in Cincinnati, Toledo or Dayton, when shown to Lima theatre goes. Do you know the same applies to others you have seen here and will see are the same. You know now why all enjoy our shows. Because they see the picture complete and not half worn out. Think it over.

The Greatest Step Forward in the Motion Picture Art the World Has Ever Known

THE PRODUCTION THAT HAS AROUSED MORE DISCUSSION AND UNIVERSAL TRIBUTES THAN ANY PICTURE IN THE HISTORY OF THE SCREEN

D. W. Griffith has produced a thing of rare and haunting charm in his latest picture "Broken Blossoms."

N. Y. EVENING POST.

It is not too much to say that "Broken Blossoms" is the most artistic photoplay yet produced. It really marks a new epoch in moving pictures. N. Y. EVENING SUN.

Griffith once more sets the artistic standard in his newest film masterpiece "Broken Blossoms." He again compels competitive screens to a higher level.

spared nothing to make this, their sixth offering from their famous New York Princess Theatre, set a new high mark in stage history, and the record of a year's run in New York and a veritable avalanche of enthusiastic comment by the leading critics, show that they have succeeded.

Guy Bolton and P. G. Wodehouse, purveyors to the Princess of books and lyrics, never turned out a more charming groundwork than in "Oh, My Dear." The lyrics bristle and snap with subtle humor and delicate feeling, and the book might well be turned into a musical-less comedy, so filled is it with brilliant wit, and clever situations.

Louis H. Hirsch, well known as the composer of a score of the prettiest musical shows, supplied the music, and in doing so quite outdid any of his previous efforts along this line. There are some sixteen numbers in the piece, every one of them extremely "whistleable" and some of them already classic.

Of course a Princess Theatre production could not be without a host of pretty girls, but in "Oh, My Dear," the producers following out their usual policy of selecting young and pretty misses, have made extraordinary efforts, and also have girls who are notable for their singing and dancing. It has been voted the best ensemble in years. Nothing could be more dainty than these charming young things garbed in the latest Parisian creations, thrilling the ensemble numbers under the fine, soft lighting effects. Here is real art on the stage.

Robert Milton and Edward Royce staged the piece, which is all the information a well informed person needs as to its excellence in that direction. The cast has been selected with care from among the best known Broadway musical comedy stars and includes such imposing names as Estaire Keye, Mildred Donnelly, Rollin Grimes, Spencer Charliss, Wayne Nunn, Olive Shelly, Earl Reading, Martha Voight, Dol Marie and Helen Frances.

GRIFFITH'S "BROKEN BLOSSOMS" TO BE SHOWN AT REGENT THEATRE.

Of extraordinary interest, not only to lovers of the motion picture, but likewise to all who appreciate the highest in art in its various manifestations, is the announcement of the Regent Theatre that it has secured David Wark Griffith's superb screen creation, "Broken Blossoms," to be shown starting Tuesday.

Never has a motion picture been accorded a reception comparable to the triumph that has followed every showing of this production. Newspapers have devoted column after column to its beauties and wonders. Everywhere its success has been instantaneous and it is safe to say that in bringing "Broken Blossoms" to our city, the management of the Regent has to its credit the biggest accomplishment in artistic entertainment that we have yet enjoyed.

The story of "Broken Blossoms" Mr. Griffith adapted from a tale by Thomas Burke called "The Chick and the Child" which is part of that author's famous volume "Limehouse Nights." Around this story, and we speak from the opinion of dramatic critics the country over, Mr. Griffith has built the most alluring, pitiful, beautiful, yet tragic love story ever filmed.

And of acting, let a word be added. Lillian Gish as "The Girl" has reached a height of dramatic interpretation the like of which has never been seen on the screen before. This little artist has labored faithfully, steadily, with an understanding marvelous in one so young, and now she comes into her full glory in "Broken Blossoms." "The Chick" is played by Richard Barthelmess and to his work the critics have paid high tributes likewise. To the telling of the love story of "Broken Blossoms," it is said that both Miss Gish and Mr. Barthelmess have brought a never a never-to-be-forgotten artistry. Donald Crisp, plays the part of "Battling Burrows," the brute on whom fatherhood has been forced, and his portrayal of a difficult role with rare talent and strength, completes the triangle of chief characters in the story.

"Broken Blossoms" should prove the crowning achievement in the splendid gallery of film presentations that we have enjoyed at the Regent.

A special program has been prepared, including the music which Mr. Griffith personally arranged and some of which he composed. All in all, we look forward with keen anticipation, for a film that has been so sensationally successful elsewhere is assured of more than a hearty welcome in Lima.

AT THE LYRIC

Elaine Hammerstein in "The Country Cousin," a Selznick Picture, is making a hit at the Lyric Theatre, where the picturized version of the famous play by Booth Tarkington and Julian Street is the feature attraction. Miss Hammerstein's appearance as a movie star is a welcome one—and especially will she be welcomed in future in such interesting stories as is that told on the screen in "The Country Cousin."

AT THE LYRIC

The Louis Brownell Concert Company has been secured for a one day attraction at the Lyric Theatre, Sunday. This is one of the highest class musical organizations on the road and the public of Lima are fortunate in being able to hear such talented musicians.

There are seven people in the company, each being an artist on two or more instruments. Miss Le Clere, the harpist has completely captivated her audiences every where she has been heard. This concert company has been a top attraction on the Chataqua platform this past summer.

In addition a feature picture with Earle Williams in Eugene Walters' stage success, "The Wolf" will be presented. The picture will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday but the concert company will be presented only on Sunday.

The Brownells are by far the best organization of their class. Every member of the company is a professional in his line and the talent for the entire organization has been selected with great care.

June Caprice and Creighton Hale come to the Lyric Theatre next Wednesday as co-stars of "A Damsel in Distress," a comedy drama that is being hailed as the best picture of its kind of the season.

"A Damsel in Distress" ran so far in The Saturday Evening Post. Written by Pelham Grenville Wodehouse, whose typewriter turns out funny stories and plays that bring him an income rivaling that of the President of the United States, "Damsel in Distress" offers splendid material for the screen.

Albert Capellani, who produced "Oh, Boy!" which Mr. Wodehouse also wrote in collaboration with Guy Bolton and Jerome Kern, and in which June Caprice and Creighton Hale were also co-starred, is the producer of "A Damsel in Distress." George Archambaud directed it under the personal supervision of Capellani.

RIALTO THEATRE.

"THE EXQUISITE THIEF."

Priscilla Dean, star of the new Universal Special Attraction, "The Exquisite Thief," which will be seen Sunday at the Rialto Theatre, is an enthusiastic motorist and has raced in some of the fastest "specials" in the country. And no wonder she is so proficient. Her tutor was Eddie Rickenbacker (now Lieutenant-Colonel Eddie Rickenbacker, D. S. C.) the internationally famous auto racing driver and aviation "ace."

THE ORPHEUM BILL.

A dog is the headline attraction of the big-time vaudeville bill and miniature musical comedy program at the Orpheum for the first half of next week, opening at the matinee Monday afternoon "Yank" is the name of the canine and he is heralded as the greatest dog actor on earth and the unsolved mystery of the age. "Yank" is not unlike thousands of other dogs in appearance, but he has a brain that is almost human in its processes and developments. For Yank can do almost everything a human can do except talk. "Yank" is a mind reading dog. And therein he is the unsolved mystery of the ages, because there never has been, so far as history relates, any other mind reading dog. There is no trickery, no deception, no illusion about the act that Art Browning offers, with Yank as the star. Yank merely reads the minds of auditors and voices their thoughts, in unmistakable manner, where everyone can see and everyone can hear and know that there is no practice of fakery.

Yank is expected to prove a veritable sensation in Lima, as in every other city in which he has appeared with his master, Art Browning.

For the entire week at the Orpheum, beginning Monday matinee, the miniature musical comedy attraction will be Orth and Coleman's "Tip Top Merry Makers," a company of twelve genuine stars. For the first half of the week, the Merry Makers will present the rollicking little extravaganza, "The Honey-moon Cruise." Featured in the cast are lovely Jewell Shaw, comical Al Coleman and Al Lemon, "the dancin' demon," and, also, a comedian of accepted ability. Everything about the Merry Makers is new and up to the minute and entirely different from anything offered heretofore at the Orpheum. The Merry Makers will offer a complete change of program at the matinee Thursday.

One of the brightest spots on the program for the first half of the next week is expected to be Lou Worth, the maker of mirth in form irresistible. Worth stands in a class by himself as a dispenser of cheer and is new and refreshing and wholly delightful.

Wood and Lawson, a man and a pretty girl, have an offering which abounds in youth and enthusiasm

How Classification Works In Other States

By E. J. HOPPLE, Ohio House of Representatives

A crisis has been reached in the tax revenues of the state of Ohio. The increased cost of administering government, whether it be state or local, and the loss of some millions of revenue occasioned by a recent amendment to the Constitution have thrust upon the law making body of the state a duty complicated and more or less stupendous. Only by legislation can this crisis be met, and the question that confronts us now is, are we going to give to the General Assembly power to legislate?

From Land and Home Owners We Now
Derive About 80 Per Cent. of Our

and justice requires legislation that will bring sufficient revenues from new sources to enable us to reduce the load now carried by the land and home owner.

I have been a member of four General Assemblies and in each of these the subject of taxation was uppermost. Out of such knowledge as experience and thought may have given to me comes my conviction that by the adoption of the pending Classification Amendment, and in no other way, can relief be afforded.

In the state of Ohio today there are fifteen billions of intangibles escaping taxation.

They escape because their owners will not submit to the rate of taxation which the Uniform Rule requires shall be assessed against them. Men are not inherently dishonest in tax matters any more than they are inherently dishonest in all other matters. Men will submit to a just rate of taxation when they will not submit to an unjust rate if they can avoid it.

Money in bank earns for its owners in some parts of the state four per cent. but in the large part of Ohio, money in bank earns only three per cent. The tax rate generally prevailing throughout the state is in the neighborhood of 15 mills which as applied to bank deposits would mean confiscation of from 37 1/2 per cent to 50 per cent of their earnings. This rate as applied to a security earning six per cent would mean confiscation of 25 per cent of its earnings.

In states where Classification is in effect the rate on intangibles is measured by their ability to earn.

In 1910 Minnesota,

Under the Uniform Rule, was assessing intangibles at a rate of 28 mills. The following year, under Classification, this rate was reduced to three mills with the resultant increase in the revenues to the point where in 1918 the three mill rate was producing $990,900.65 revenues.

In Connecticut Classification

Increased the tax revenues from intangibles from $129,452.06 in 1890, to $548,660.73 in 1918.

A more recent report from the Kentucky Tax Commission shows that in two years of operation under Classification in the state the revenue derived from intangibles has increased $1,074,534.48.

From bank deposits alone the increased revenues amounted to 140.21 per cent and from other classes of intangibles the revenue has increased 173.28 per cent.

The state tax rate in Kentucky has been reduced to land from 55c per $100 valuation, to 40c per $100 valuation and the proportion of revenue derived from land has decreased from 77 per cent. of the total tax revenues.

In 1896 The Legislature of Maryland

Fixed a rate of three mills on intangibles for the city of Baltimore. The valuation of intangibles returned for taxation at that time was only six million dollars. Under the three mill levy the return of intangibles increased until in 1914 it had reached the stupendous sum of $191,000,000.

What has happened in other states under Classification will happen in Ohio if Classification is adopted.

Should Classification Be Defeated

It is not clear to me how we can escape either repealing or modifying the limitations fixed in the Smith Act. Government must go on and government must have the money to enable it to go on, and if the people of Ohio are unwilling to inform themselves so that they may vote intelligently, the penalty for an ignorant vote resulting in the defeat of Classification will have to be borne by the owners of land and homes.

Classification is not an untried quantity.
The above statistics show conclusively what it has done for other states. Think it over and remember this is to be voted on Nov. 4th at the regular elections.

REPUBLICAN CLAIMS MEMBERS OF GANG MAY AID SOCIALISM

Are Willing to Put City Under Blank Rule, He Declares.

KNOWS THE MACHINE.

Sets Up Time Worn Cry of "The Full Dinner Pail."

Rather than see the Democrats win members of the G. O. P. ring who are now fighting with their backs to the wall will throw the election into the hands of the Socialists if they thought every opportunity for winning was lost. This indictment coming from a Republican who formerly was always high in the party, but who because of the tactics of the Gang, has left them, is the most accurate description of the gang given so far in the campaign which is attempting to again throttle Lima.

This man who is a leader of his people in his section of the city although a Republican in the past came out against the Old Machine because, he declares, he knows just how rotten to the core it is.

Promise Is Bunk.

"HARLEY'S PROMISE TO THE PEOPLE NOT TO APPOINT ANY OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION IS BUNK," he declared. "I have been on the inside workings of the Republican party too long to be fooled into thinking that Frank Downing, Gale and McElroy are going to throw up their hands and allow their candidate to tell them to jump in the river."

Harley revealed himself several weeks ago when he asked me to use my influence in his behalf. I told him that I would provide he would cut loose from the Old Gang. Harley declared at that time, he couldn't do this as it wouldn't be politics. And then he has the nerve to ask the people of Lima to believe that he has turned the old Gang out into the cold.

Hunting For Mud

Just how hard up the Republicans are to have something to talk about and to find some mud which they can throw in the direction of Frank Burkhardt and the Democratic party was shown in the customary cut and dried speech, which was delivered at Republican headquarters Friday night on Paul Landis. Waving the American Flag shouting how patriotic they are, and besmearing the record of the National Administration, which although finer than any record ever made by the Republicans does not enter into the present Municipal campaign.

It is laughable the attempt of the machine, to find some camouflage with which to deceive the eyes of the voters. Discounting the bug-a-boo of the Ohio Electric in which 10 per cent of the voters don't take any stock the Gang has nothing to say.

Then, too, the same old campaign cry of "The Full Dinner Pail" which has been used in every National Election for the last 30 years by the Republican party is again being brought out of discard. It is of no use however, as the voters refuse to be fooled by this same old bunk.

WASTING TREES EVERY YEAR

The amount of waste paper collected in all parts of Great Britain in 1914 was one thousand tons per week. By 1918 this had been increased to 6,000 tons per week, or an increase of approximately 500 per cent. It requires eight trees of mature growth to produce a ton of paper pulp. Every ton of waste paper which can be substituted will save eight trees for other uses.

THIS IS YOUR CITY

IT IS YOUR HOME YOU ARE PROUD OF IT

Then remember that you have a responsibility for the future of Lima—remember that when you vote next Tuesday you are going to help release the city from GANG RULE, elect a Socialist Mayor who is bound hand and foot by a Socialist Local, or elect Frank Burkhardt, who GUARANTEES a clean, fair-play administration.

You Have a Duty to Perform

You can not conscientiously vote to retain the republican gang in power, now can you? You can not set Lima back ten years by electing a non-constructive party to power.

Burkhardt is the Man

He can and will defeat Blank. The republican organization knows that it is defeated. It has offered no issues in the campaign. It has refused to join in FAIR PLAY.

VOTE FOR BURKHARDT
